Hello Quilters,

Wow, what a busy summer we're having unpacking boxes. The Store is overflowing with beautiful, new fabric . . .

New Arrivals

Let's start off with the bright and whimsical Pretty Bird and Meandering Vines fabric by Michael Miller.

Looking for new fall fabric to welcome in the new season? We have two rich-looking lines full of all the colors of autumn and both with a touch of gold metallic. The first one is Shades of the Season 3 by Robert Kaufman.

Our second fall collection has delicate leaf formations and is equally lovely. This is called Harvest by Timeless Treasures.

In a contemporary style, we have more stylized birds in bright purples, pinks and greens. Here is Avalon by Clothworks.

This next one reminds me of late summer and early fall with its yellows and browns. The collection, Origins, was designed by Basic Grey of Moda.

Now, for the exciting news! The latest knits by Michael Miller have arrived in colors of black, pink and white. These are perfect for making stretchy tops, comfortable skirts or little girl outfits. And, you do not need a serger to sew on knits. We have a free handout with tips for sewing on knits available with your purchase.

If you've been in the Store lately, you may have noticed that we rearranged a few things. Please check out our new art supply center. We now carry Paintstiks, metallic Lumiere paints, Lutradur, Angelina fibers and films, beads, fibers, foil and adhesives. Samples are being made and an embellishment class utilizing many of these is scheduled for September 27.

KAREN FISHER ART QUILT EXHIBIT

October 11 through November 7, 2010

Karen's art quilts are full of color and dimension. She likes to start with a structure and then give it her own twist and spin. Her compositions are layered with detail and embellishments giving them great dimension. Here is a sample of her work, Green House Effect, which you can see at Quilt Festival in Houston this fall.

Class Schedule

Teachers are returning to town and our class schedule is filling up. Karen Barrow, our newest teacher, will be teaching how to make beautiful bags. Karen loves making them and always has useful tips on the process. Here is her Fortune Cookie Bag, and the class is scheduled for both September and November. We think you will like this one. It takes little fabric, works up nicely and would make a great gift for a special woman in your life.
