The Immune System

The immune system is one of nature's more fascinating inventions. With ease, it protects us against billions of bacteria, viruses, and other parasites. Most of us never reflect upon the fact that while we hang out with our friends, watch TV, or go to school, inside our bodies; our immune system is constantly on the alert, attacking at the first sign of an invasion by harmful organisms.

The immune system is very complex. It's made up of several types of cells and proteins that have different jobs to do in fighting foreign invaders. The first part of the immune system that meets invaders such as bacteria is a group of proteins called the complement system. These proteins flow freely in the blood and can quickly reach the site of an invasion where they can react directly with antigens - molecules that the body recognizes as foreign substances. When activated, the complement proteins can...

- TRIGGER INFLAMMATION
- ATTRACT EATER CELLS SUCH AS MACROPHAGES TO THE AREA
- COAT INTRUDERS SO THAT EATER CELLS ARE MORE LIKELY TO DEVOUR THEM
- KILL INTRUDERS
