

How To Wrap A Toga

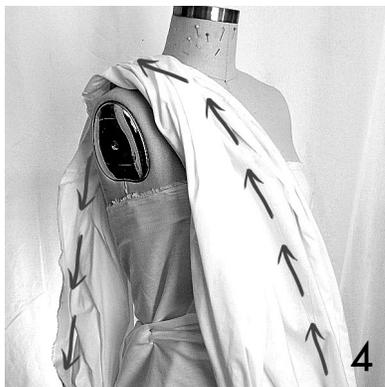

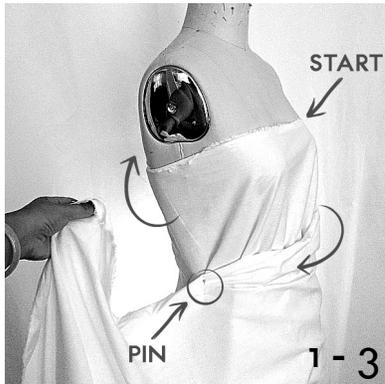

WWW.STONEMOUNTAINFABRIC.COM

2518 SHATTUCK AVE, BERKELEY, CALIFORNIA 94704

FABRICLADY3@GMAIL.COM - 510-845-6106

OPEN M-F 10-6:30 - SAT 10-6 - SUN 11-5:30

OPTION 1

Get at least four-five yards of 45" wide fabric. (Trust us, four is enough to wrap around your torso and then over a shoulder to drape or configure as you like). This will make the toga about knee length. If you want shorter, you can use 36" wide fabric, but you can still make the 45" fabric shorter with draping and pinning.

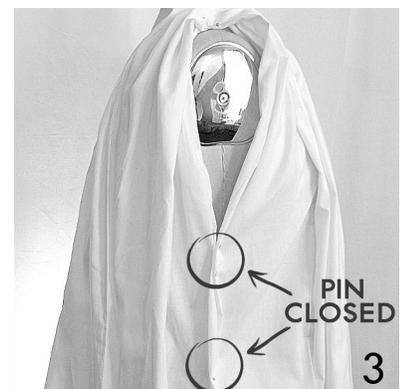

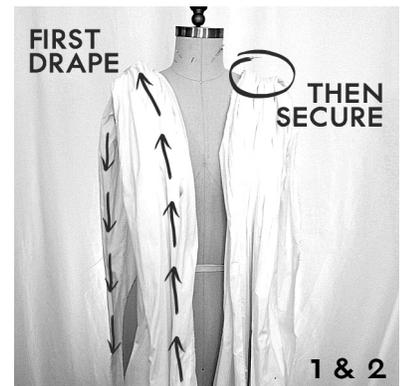

Option 1

- 1) Wrap the fabric around you starting at your side and going around the bust like a towel.
- 2) Pin the fabric where it overlaps at the armpit.
- 3) Bring the free end of the fabric across your body and down to pin at the waist.
- 4) Drape the rest of the fabric over your shoulder.
- 5) Pin again to the waist in the back to keep it from sliding down in the back. Twist, knot, or tie the fabric with some elastic or string at your shoulder for different looks.
- 6) Then pin the fabric at your sides to keep your bust covered. Pin the fabric to a tube top or camisole to it to keep it in place.

Option 2

- 1) Cut the 4-5 yards of fabric in half (into two pieces, 2-2 ½ yards long each) and drape one piece over each shoulder.
- 2) Using a ribbon or elastic, tie around each piece at your shoulders.
- 3) Pin or sew the two pieces in the front, sides and back.
- 4) 3-4 yards of cording, ribbon or other trim can be wrapped around the body to define your waist, or crisscross over the bust to help keep the fabric in place.

OPTION 2

To finish it off, adorn your head with some of our leaf trim, put on some sandals and away you go!