2017 Judy Niemeyer Retreat

Vintage Rose

Come and learn with Australia's leading talent for Judy Niemeyer's Quiltworx foundation piecing techniques – Joanne Wearing. The Australian Facilitator and Certified Instructor, Joanne will take you through the new 2017 Technique quilt pattern – "Vintage Rose". Over the 5 days learn to read, understand, organise and master the technique of foundation piecing the Judy Niemeyer way. You'll have the opportunity to sew as long as you like while everything else is organised for you.

 Joanne is available throughout the hours of 8am to 8pm, however the class room will be open from 8am to midnight Thursday to Sunday.

No pre-cutting is required for this class. From experience of previous Workshops, we will be providing the pattern on the first day of class to ensure everyone is starting from the same point. The first morning you will be cutting and preparing your first section. Thereafter you will be guided as to what sections are coming up next and you will be able to plan the remainder of your cutting over the days of the workshop.

We will however supply a Fabric requirements list and Fabric Key so you can prepare your fabrics. You are also welcome to request assistance if you need further help understanding these requirements before the workshop. It will help you to get your cutting done quicker and more accurately if you have prepared your Fabric Key prior.

Although you will cover all the techniques required to complete the quilt, it is unlikely you will complete the entire quilt top over the 5 days. We estimate that if you have worked consistently and efficiently over the 5 days, you may have the centre pieced prior to departure.

I have been sewing since my early 20's and am primarily self-taught. Finding a love for dressmaking and becoming more proficient at my craft, I have a keen eye for detail and paid particular attention to finishing details with my garments. Progressing from dressmaking and home wares made for family and friends, I progressed to featuring and coordinating Fashion Parades for School Fundraisers.

Due to the success and demand for my work and designs, I launched a private dress label. These 'one-off' garments were custom designed and made to order. As the demand for my work grew, I streamlined my work towards Evening and Bridal wear. This work in particular netted a great deal of personal satisfaction.

The idea of patchwork and cutting fabric into small pieces just to re-join it was somewhat confronting to begin with. I got my first taste of patchwork and quilting when I was asked to Applique the border of a friends quilt, this was the beginning of a dedicated passion for the art. After completing a beginner's class, my 2nd project was a foundation pieced twisted log cabin with over 4000 pieces.

In 2006 jointly with my daughter Danielle, I purchased what is now known as Sew This & That, a store dedicated to Patchwork and Sewing. The store is located at Morayfield in Queensland which boasts a comprehensive class schedule covering all aspects of sewing. I am the advanced Quilting & Patchwork Teacher in the store and dedicate my time to developing the comprehensive classes. I also teach at local Quilting Guilds and have represented the Quiltworx label at industry trade shows.

After discovering Judy's patterns whilst on holidays in Alaska, I contacted Judy directly and promptly found myself enrolled in one of Judy's famed retreats. There I completed my prized Amazon Star & Glacier Star quilts.

After returning from that trip, I have not stopped growing my Trunk Show of Judy Niemeyer Quilts. Fast becoming the Australian expert for Quiltworx, I am proud to be the first Certified Instructor in Australia.
