QUILTING SYSTEMS

Urgent Announcement:

Jo Ann Blade phoned this morning to tell us that she will be unable to come today-Saturday due to a family health emergency. We will reschedule with her as soon as possible! If you were planning on coming Friday, we can still review cutting apart designs in CS and applique - please just call and let us know you'll be here! (970)224-9975

Thread Tails and Vapor Trails www.navyquilts.com

We're working hard to hammer out the details of upcoming exhibits. We need volunteers for the air shows and Tier 1 CONA events! This is a great opportunity for a guild to reach thousands of people. While you show the TTVT quilts, you can share information about your group, and recruit new members! No selling is permitted, but you're welcome to hand out printed information. Please email or call us for more information.

Haven't seen the quilts? Visit <http://navyquilts.com/awinners> to see all of the travelers and winners. Also, don't forget that we have the full line of military fabrics newly released by sponsor Robert Kaufman Fabrics, and have a set of 30 postcards of the winners for $10.00. You can see the fabrics at <http://www.jukeboxquilts.com/store/MilitaryFabrics.php>.

We immediately need volunteers for:

Corpus Christy, TX April 8-10

Fort Worth, TX April 15-17

Marine Corp Air Station Beaufort, SC April 30-May 5

Marine Corps Air Station: New River in Jacksonville, NC May 13-15

Philadelphia May 23-29 (dates to be determined) in Millville, NJ

Andrews Airforce Base, MD May 20-22

Are you interested in a used machine?

We'll have several available soon, including Statlers. Visit www.jukeboxquilts.com, click on "Sign Up Now" (to receive notes from Jukebox). Enter your email, and you'll receive an email with the ability to update your profile - check that you'd like to receive information on used machines, and we'll keep you posted! We currently have a 2006 12' Statler Optimum with zippered leads available for $22,000 plus delivery, set up and training. That's a great bargain! Call for additional information.

Spring Cleaning - Repair and Maintenance of your Gammill Machine

Don't forget, Jukebox Quilts is happy to repair or provide factory authorized warranty or maintenance services on your machine. Warranty services are provided in-shop, travel fees apply if you need us to come to your location.

Additional cleaning and maintenance is available for very reasonable rates. We can come to you, or you can bring your machine head to us! For the rest of March and all of April, we'll work on your machine for $55 per hour (normal price is $75) plus travel, if necessary. Call for appointments. If you want us to notify you when we visit your area, email us with your zip code and contact information, and we'll contact you prior to our scheduled trips and deliveries to your area. This is a great way to save, and to provide a little TLC for that machine that works so hard for you!

Oil Instructions

Visit Gammill's website for their video on "Preparation Before Quilting Part 1" for accurate information on how to oil your machine. There is also a printable sheet at <http://www.gammill.net/documents/OilingMaintenance.pdf>. Recently, we've picked up a few local machines for repair where oil has literally poured out of the machine when we go to lift it up. If you follow the directions in the video, you will normally see a drop or two on the table when you park it between uses (place a towel or piece of batting under the area directly below the brass cup that you drop 10-12 drops of oil in every 8 hours of use to catch these drips). If this area is dry between uses, you are not oiling enough. If you are buying oil by the gallon, and saturate the towel under your machine head with oil, you are oiling too much. The excess will not only be on your table, but will obey the law of gravity and drip on your floor (carpet) or possibly hitch an unwelcomed ride on your customer's quilt or unsuspecting Gammill repairperson's clothing.

So... speaking of stains...

Many of us have always kept cornstarch handy (in a salt shaker) to sprinkle on oil spots on zippered leads or other fabrics. Let it sit overnight, then vacuum clean the next day. I found a great website that lists solutions for every stain imaginable. Who knew zucchini could stain? Visit <http://web.extension.illinois.edu/stain/> for tips on stains from a huge number of causes. I think this is an awesome site, and one you'll want to bookmark (may you never need it...). A special thanks to Susan Taylor, Extension Educator, Consumer & Family Economics at University of Illinois Extension for this valuable website. She reports there is also a mobile application for the days when the salad dressing misses your mouth and ends up on your clothes!

Classified Ads:

Design Center for sale (new price is $1500)

Never used - $600, includes two of Irena Bluhm's books describing use.

Also, extra work stations and pantographs for sale, make an offer.

New Gammill Accessory:

We have a 12' Alignment Mat and Deluxe Drafting Chair (Gray) available. These are normally $195 each. Interested? Both can be had for $325! Give us a call.

Upcoming Sockhop Events

Our Statler Operator Classes at Kelly's meets this Friday. For more information, see <http://www.jukeboxquilts.com/downloads/Feb2011NotesFromJukebox.pdf> for all of 2011. Your first meeting is free! JoAnn taught at the SUGAR conference this last summer - you can enjoy her presentation at no cost this Friday!

Friday, March 18th 11a.m.-2p.m.

Bring your own lunch, wear layers if it's cold, bring show and tell and questions!

Learn all about applique with the Statler. We're lucky to have teacher and CS trainer Jo Ann Blade here to do a trunk show of "Applique the Statler Way" and other cool techniques and tricks she's doing with her Statler. Check out her website at [www.joannsq quilting.com](http://www.joannsq quilting.com) and click on "Applique the Statler Way" under "Website Categories." Watch the changing photos for samples of the fun stuff she's doing. She'll briefly describe how she's achieved these techniques, but greater detail will be covered in Saturday's class.

*Saturday, March 19 9a.m.-1p.m.

Jo Ann will teach CS techniques for splitting up your existing patterns to get more bang for the buck. The patterns can then be easily adapted for appliqueing by Statler, and creating new wholecloths. She'll review steps she's using to create a Baltimore Album quilt. This is a great overview of the power of CS and the possibilities of the Statler. Bring a sack lunch if you'd like to hang out after the class! There will be a separate charge of $50.00 for this class, and class size will be limited. Call us for more information.

[www.joannsq quilting.com](http://www.joannsq quilting.com)

Jo Ann did all this applique with her Statler and patterns she owned! You're going to love this class!

Thursday, April 7th 11a.m.-2p.m.

Bring your own lunch, bring show and tell and questions!

Deb and Kelly

Learn how to make purses and bags on your Statler! We'll show foundation piecing, applique, embellishment, and most of the construction, all while your project is still on your machine! Bags will vary from small clutches to big totes.

*Wednesday, April 13th 10a.m.-5p.m.

Bring your own lunch.

Kelly will be teaching a wholecloth class at Deb Geissler's studio in Littleton. Learn all steps for successfully completing wholecloths from cotton or silks. The morning will focus on using integrated designs that include electronic placement for the greatest technical accuracy after properly preparing the quilt sandwich and adjusting tension. The afternoon will bring information on turning quilts, border placement, and binding while on the Statler. We'll also spend time discussing how to break up your favorite commercial patterns to create additional wholecloth patterns and borders using the power of Creative Studio! There is a $75 fee for this class.

Other Upcoming Classes:

Free Motion and Design Class with Sherry Reynolds

Wednesday, March 23rd 9:30-2:30p.m.

Bring your own sack lunch, we'll provide drinks

Join Sherry, winner of national awards, to learn how she plans, designs, and stitches her incredible quilts. Although Sherry is a sit-down machine quilter (we're working on enticing her to the wonderful world of longarms) the techniques she'll share apply to any quilt. If you've attended The Rocky Mountain Quilt Festival, Road 2 California, or any other major show, chances are you've seen Sherry's awesome work. This class would be valuable to any machine quilter, including Statler owners who want to hone their free motion skills.

A detail of some of Sherry's impeccable quilting.

Leslie Gabrielse

Monday-Wednesday, May 16th-18th

More details coming soon...

We're thrilled that Leslie Gabrielse will be visiting, and will teach a three day workshop here for a small group. More details coming soon, but sign up early! Visit Leslie's site at <http://www.gabrielse.com/>. Leslie works by hand only (sorry, folks, no longarms in this class) and you'll learn a tremendous amount about design, composition, and using stitching and pigment embellishment to enhance an art quilt. This quilt is one the Abbotts commissioned of daughter Karlee (yikes, who just turned 21 last week!). Leslie's work is awesome, and we're lucky to have him on one of his rare trips to the US.

Rocky Mountain Applique Adventure

October 5-9

Steamboat Springs, CO

Yowza! This will be a super fun, very affordable five days with David Taylor, Lura Schwarz Smith, Kelly, and Madeleine Vail! Check out www.rockymtnapplique.com for details, and sign up soon. Classes are limited to 15 each. You'll leave super inspired, make lots of great new friends, and get to stay in one of the most beautiful places on the planet. Hope you can join us!
